LGU: Malungon

ON HELPING THE LOCAL FARMERS AND ENSURING NUTRITION OF THE PEOPLE AMIDST THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

The Local Government Unit of Malungon has been steadfast in its efforts to contain, control and protect the people from the on-going COVID-19 pandemic. Upholding the welfare of the people is one of the top priorities of the local government in all its undertakings to overcome the challenges, issues and concerns brought about by this global health crisis. We strive and work hard to be able to live in a community where the people are protected and capacitated to overcome the threats of health problems such as viruses and diseases.

The only land-locked municipality in Sarangani Province, the major means of livelihood and other economic activities of the people in Malungon rely on agriculture. Hence, one of the sectors heavily affected by the community quarantines and lockdowns as a preventive measure to combat the virus are our local farmers, particularly those who are in the upland communities. The people, on the other hand, have to secure adequate supply of vegetables and fruits in their tables as basic consumption and ensure the family members' health and nutrition to protect them from getting infected with the deadly COVID-19. Both the farmers and consumers are also negatively affected due to some restrictions and limitations imposed on transport and mobility.

LGU Malungon thru the Municipal COVID-19 Task Force under the leadership of the Municipal Mayor Atty. Maria Theresa D. Constantino in partnership with the barangay officials and concerned agencies immediately acted on it in order to prevent the dilemma from escalating. One of the best practices of the local government that has continuously played an important role to this endeavour is basically anchored on unity and cooperation between the local government, people and stakeholders.

The only land-locked municipality in Sarangani Province, the major means of livelihood and other economic activities of the

To provide relief to the local farmers and consumers, the local government thru the Market Supervisor checked and recorded the varieties and volume of vegetables and fruits regularly sold in the public markets of the barangays. This became the basis in what and how much agricultural produce were picked up from the farms in upland communities and transported to the common “bagsakan” identified by the municipal government to be assorted and delivered to the barangays. Then, the barangay officials were tapped as partners to help facilitate in the mobilization of these agricultural produce from the pick-up point to the markets in the barangays.

However, there was still a problem on the tons of excess harvest of vegetables and fruits which are bound to rot and waste if not sold in the market. Thus, the idea of a mobile palengke which is also done in several local government units in the country in order to provide means for the people to buy products without the need to go to the market, prevent them from violating the community quarantine protocols and protect them from the risks of getting infected with the virus. As for the Municipality of Malungon's version of mobile palengke, Gulay-On-The-Go was established.

“Gulay-On-The-Go: From Malungon Farm To Your Table Mobile Palengke” is a personal initiative of Ms. Almin T. Abejaron, a resident of Barangay Nagpan, Malungon, Sarangani Province in which the orders are placed thru an online selling platform and being delivered right at the doorstep of the customers. This is in order to help fill the gap between the farmers and the consumers in Malungon. The farmers are struggling with tons of agri-products which may rot after harvest due to limitations of delivery in all “bagsakan” and decline of prospective major businesses/traders. Consumers, on the other hand, have limited access to the farmers' produce due to limited mobility caused by the indefinite community quarantine. The founder felt the need to venture into this concept because of her high respect and concern to our farmers for our food supply. She thinks that there is also enough agricultural produce in the region by bridging access to logistics. It is an act of “bayanihan” by supporting local products; we also support our local farmers from the uplands.

Since this initiative was started, 10,250 kilos of assorted vegetables and fruits have been delivered to more than 500 families helping more than 200 farmers. 1,200 kilos of vegetable and fruits were also donated for the consumption of the frontliners and indigents.

These initiatives and innovation involving the unity, cooperation and participation of the concerned entities and individuals have contributed in so many ways as the municipality is continuously battling the COVID-19 pandemic. These, along with the other programs, interventions and practices have greatly helped Malungon and even Sarangani Province in sustaining its status as a COVID-19 Free community.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A TEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION OF HEALTH WORKERS AND FRONTLINERS IN LGU MALUNGON AMIDST COVID-19 PANDEMIC

The Local Government Unit of Malungon has been steadfast in its efforts to contain, control and protect the people from the on-going COVID-19 pandemic. Upholding the welfare of the people is one of the top priorities of the local government in all its undertakings to overcome the challenges, issues and concerns brought about by this global health crisis. We strive and work hard to be able to live in a community where the people are protected and capacitated to overcome the threats of health problems such as viruses and diseases.

The most essential and capacitated partners of the government in dealing with the pandemic are the brave health workers and volunteers who comprise what we call as our frontliners. They are those who tirelessly man the checkpoints and borders and work all the time in the hospitals, quarantine facilities and isolation centers to take care of the COVID-19 positive patients, Persons Under Investigation (PUIs) and Persons Under Monitoring (PUMs) among other patients and clients in need of medical attention. However, they are among the most vulnerable individuals who are always exposed and at risk of contracting the deadly virus. They are also burdened by the fear of the possibility of infecting their family members when they interact with them whenever they are at home. Sadly, they as well became targets and victims of discrimination by the people in the communities with the assumption that the frontliners might be the ones who will infect them with the virus.

Hence, in keeping with the need to promote and protect public health, public interest, public safety and the welfare of the constituents and recognizing the clear and present dangers posed by the pandemic, Community Quarantine was implemented. The commuting health workers and frontliners were provided by the local government the mobility with the use of the Municipal Bus. With the imposition of the Regional Enhanced Community Quarantine and Regional Lockdown of Region XII, it was observed that there is a need for the commuting health workers and frontliners to be accommodated in the municipality to contain all the workers together with the residents within the community and in order to avoid acts of discrimination and social stigma.

Malungon Municipal COVID-19 Task Force under the leadership of the Municipal Mayor Atty. Maria Theresa D. Constantino in partnership with the concerned offices immediately acted on it by issuing on April 6, 2020 the Executive Order 23A, an order directing the establishment of a temporary accommodation of health workers and frontliners in the Municipality of Malungon.

Pursuant to this order addressing their need relative to their living quarters or accommodation closer to their work stations and contain them within the community, the Malungon Sports and Youth Hall was identified and used for the said purpose. Upon the recommendation of the members of the Municipal COVID-19 Task Force, two additional facilities, the Malungon Women and Children Protection Center (WCPC) and Sunken Arena Covered Court were added to be also utilized and are now being prepared to be converted as temporary accommodations. The Malungon Sports and Youth Hall is currently utilized as the living quarters of the health workers, Malungon WCPC will be used by the social workers and the Sunken Arena Covered Court for the quick response team and rescue volunteers.

In the transition of these facilities as temporary shelters, the Municipal Administrator and COVID-19 Incident Commander together with the General Services Officer were tasked for the procurement of basic necessities such as mattresses/bedding and pillows, installation of additional air conditioning units, kitchen utensils and other essentials. Municipal Engineer was directed to institute and plan repairs, perimeter and safety measures as enclosure or back fencing, facilitate the necessary works, partitioning and installation or repair of additional toilet and bath with accessories. On the other hand, the health workers and frontliners who are staying in the said facilities were advised to limit unwarranted or non-essential travels to and from places of residence outside of the municipality unless absolutely necessary and to stay within the contained area in observance of the community quarantine.

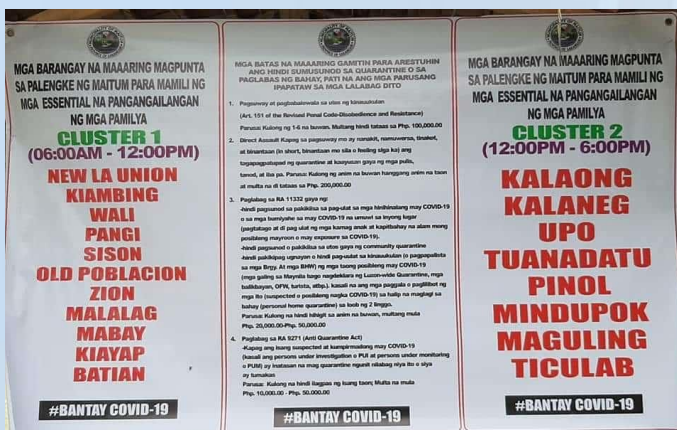

This initiative as one of the best practices of the local government that has continuously played an important role in this undertaking is basically anchored on unity, cooperation, compassion, participation and service with a happy heart of the local government, its people and the stakeholders. In so many ways, this approach has also contributed much as the municipality is continuously battling the COVID-19 pandemic. These, along with the other programs, interventions and practices have greatly helped Malungon and even Sarangani Province in sustaining its status as a COVID-19 Free community.

LGU: Kidapawan City

“MAGPUYO SA BALAY, MANANOM OG GULAY” CONTEST

Roughly translated as “Stay at Home, Plant your Vegetables” the term was coined by Acting City Agriculturist Marissa T. Aton. It started out as a City Government initiated program to encourage Kidapawenos to stay at home by tending to their vegetable gardens, thereby attaining two crucial objectives during the imposition of a community quarantine in Kidapawan City: (1) reduce the movement of persons outside of their residences; and (2) boost local food sufficiency and production by providing a ready source of food for residents of Kidapawan City in times of need.

The initial phase of the program consisted in the free distribution of high quality vegetable seeds to residents of Kidapawan City. The program was well-accepted by the public considering that more than two thousand (2,000) beneficiaries voluntarily visited the City Agriculturist Office to obtain the seeds. Robust information dissemination campaign was also conducted thru social media platform and teleradyo.

The next challenge was to ensure that the seeds that were obtained by the general public would translate to actual planting, adequate yield and productive harvesting.

With the input of City Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Officer (CDRRMO) Psalmer S. Bernalte and Acting City Information Officer Atty. Jose Paolo M. Evangelista, the contest was later conceptualized as a vegetable gardening contest wherein participants would obtain seeds from the Office of the City Agriculturist and plant the same in a manner that would be both productive and aesthetically pleasing. The winners would be announced during the daily teleradyo program sponsored by the City Government, co-anchored by both the CDRRM Officer and City Information Officer. The following guidelines were formed and were also disseminated through social media and teleradyo platforms.

GUIDELINES

1. All entries must be vegetables grown from the seeds distributed by the Office of the City Agriculturist.
2. Entries will be in the form of photos taken by the vegetable gardener of 1 photo of each kind ampalaya, kalabasa, okra, talong, sitaw. Send your photos through private message in Facebook to the City Government of Kidapawan Facebook page as your entry with the following details: NAME, ADDRESS AND CONTACT NUMBER. For added motivation, cash prizes will be awarded to daily winners (Php500.00), weekly winners (Php1,000.00) and monthly winners (Php5,000.00). All winners will be selected by the Office of the City Agriculturist through proper ranking based on the collective judgment of a panel of four (4) judges, and approved by the City Agriculturist. The contest will run until 26 June 2020, or may even be extended until the end of the year. So far, the responses have been positive. People have been encouraged to cultivate their own backyard gardens. This is a win-win contest for all participants in that even if their garden would not be selected as the best garden, they would still be able to yield produce that they may cook for food sufficiency of their respective households. It is the fervent hope of the City Government that this will inculcate a sense of responsibility to the people for them to cultivate and produce their own food sources in order to boost resiliency against any government-initiated quarantine.
